

BID2WIN SOFTWARE INC. NAMED HOTTEST COMPANY BY CONSTRUCTECH MAGAZINE

Portsmouth, NH, July 01, 2009 – BID2WIN Software Inc. is pleased to announce that it has been named one of the 50 hottest companies of 2009 by Constructech Magazine.

The Constructech 50 Hottest for 2009 is a listing of the most influential construction technology providers with a strong and ongoing market presence. The Constructech editorial team considered various criteria when determining the 2009 winners from some 200 considered companies. Some of those criteria included having a strong product/service aimed at the construction industry, customer satisfaction and growth, as well as outreach and educational efforts for the construction industry. While in previous years companies were judged based on the success and growth found solely in the past year, winners of the Constructech 50 Hottest for 2009 were evaluated on a continued and dominant presence in the marketplace.

“The Constructech 50 Hottest honors the hard work and dedication that these exceptional companies have shown in the construction space,” said Mike Carrozzo, chief editor of Constructech. “Though economic turmoil has been prominent and the construction market has seen struggles, this year’s winners have still found success and are taking part in the move toward improvement in the industry.”

“We are proud to be named one of the 50 hottest technology providers of 2009,” says BID2WIN Software president Paul J. McKeon, Jr. “This recognition truly reinforces the fact that we provide the best enterprise-class construction management solutions available in the industry today.”

BID2WIN Software Inc. was recognized as an industry leader through the company’s dedication to building the most robust and full featured heavy construction management tools, and providing unmatched client service and support. In 2008, BID2WIN Software expanded their suite of solutions to include the first browser-based field data tracking software on the market, BUILD2WIN Field Tracking. And in the past year, BID2WIN Software has developed and released new versions of both products—BID2WIN 2009, which includes over 80 new enhancements, features and reports; and BUILD2WIN versions 1.1, 1.2, 1.3 and 1.4.
